

Microsoft Skills for Employability

The Microsoft Skills for Employability program is for those with intermediate IT skills who are interested in Microsoft Azure Administration, Microsoft Azure Development, and Microsoft Data Analytics. This program provides participants with an opportunity to upskill or secure alternative employment if they have lost employment due to COVID-19 or any other reasons. The program will do this by providing attendees with the knowledge necessary to obtain a Microsoft certified designation while focusing on career growth and advancement.

Program Benefits Delivered by a Team of Employment Experts

The program offers seamless access to Microsoft certifications and focuses on helping jobseekers secure employment during challenging economic times

Participants will receive customized employment services including personal branding, networking, interviewing, and social media profiling to strengthen their marketability

This program is informed by employers who participate in program delivery

Participants receive access to Speed Mentoring® events and benefit from guest speakers and industry insights

Participants obtain a range of Future Skills / in-demand professional soft skills that are sought by employers and promote career advancement

Participants are provided with opportunities to work collaboratively and creatively together to develop leadership skills and insights regarding workplace culture and platform-based labour market attachment

Participants achieve digital transformation through virtual collaboration tools

Participants receive customized training from post-hire sector and language coaches to support employment retention and career progression
