Health English Language Pro (HELP)

Are you a newcomer physician in Canada looking to improve your medical English skills? Joining the HELP community can help you achieve your goals.

Health English Language Pro (HELP) creates partnerships between newcomer physicians and experienced volunteer physicians with a focus on helping newcomers practice medical terminology in English and familiarize themselves with Canadian healthcare communication and systems.

Program Benefits

When you join the HELP community you will:

Improve Healthcare Language and Communication Skills: HELP emphasizes effective communication in healthcare settings through 12 one-to-one conversations, typically held once per week virtually or in person.

Receive Onboarding and Ongoing Support: Staff will walk through the process of engaging in the program and support you along the way.

Partner with an Experienced Physician: Experienced volunteer physicians partner with newcomer physicians to share their extensive knowledge.

Leverage Supportive Content: Expert-reviewed conversation guides and medical cases will help you take part in productive conversations while maintaining the freedom to branch off to other areas as needed.

Newcomer Physician Eligibility

- Newcomers to Canada, including recently naturalized Canadian Citizens, Permanent Residents, Convention Refugees, Refugee Claimants
- Medical degree outside of Canada, with or without experience
- CLB level 6 & above
